Hi Magda

No, as far as I know there is no policy on name changes. There's the obvious suggestions which include making sure your name is specific enough not to be confused with someone else's program on campus and to convey your expertise (which Engineering Honors would certainly do) and then to let us know so that we can change the name in all of our literature and websites once you have things finalized. I suspect you may need to get approval from the AOC Deans since yours is a transcript designation and also a certificate, as well as deciding when and how the transition will take place.

Best,

Suma

Subject: Question

Summa Hi,

We are considering changing the ESP name to Engineering Honors or similar.

Since we have used this name for a while, there are many places where we will need to make updates (booklets, websites, etc). Is there a policy from your office on name changes?

Thanks,
Magda
